VISION

We believe that biomedical publishing has not been able to keep pace with advancing technology. With our twin portals, we intend to cater to all scientists irrespective of their preference for Pre-Publication or Post-Publication Peer Review models.

WebmedCentral publishes all articles without prior peer review in a climate of post publication peer review.

WebmedCentral plus, on the other hand, publishes high quality scientific material, after peer review by an acclaimed team of editors, at a very low cost compared to other Open Access journals.
